

Right to vote

Member States must be parties to the Geneva Constitution and Convention of the ITU (CS 210).

Member States must not be in arrears of payments to the Union for an amount equivalent to two years or more of the contribution due for the two preceding years (CS 169).

The list of Member States that have not lost the right to vote by being parties to the Geneva Constitution and Convention (CS 210) and by not being in arrears of payments to the Union (CS169) can be found here.

The list is TIES protected and updated every hour.
